MOTOR VEHICLES

- Please visit <http://www.customs.gov.au/site/page.cfm?u=4781> for detailed information about duty rates and permissions.
- The importation of motor vehicles into Australia is strictly controlled and there are no duty/GST free concessions available. This means that all motor vehicles, including motorcycles, will be subject to duty and/or GST which will be calculated on the value of the vehicle. In addition, high value vehicles will attract a Luxury Car Tax. There are also strict regulations for the registration of motor vehicles, including motorcycles, for road use in Australia
- All vehicles must comply with Australian Design Regulations which, in almost every case, will require modification to be undertaken to the vehicle to bring it up to the required standard. It is possible that in some instances a vehicle may not be able to be modified, or alternatively may require extensive modification so as to allow registration.
- All such modifications must be undertaken and certified by an accredited Australian automotive engineer and can be a very costly undertaking which often results in an uneconomical situation arising in preparing a vehicle for road use.
- There is some relief given to these compliance regulations if a vehicle is imported as a personally imported vehicle. These concessions will, however, still require that the imported vehicle attain a basic level of safety requirements relating principally to lighting, seat belts, child restraint anchorages and glazing. To be eligible for a personally imported vehicle, an importer must meet the following criteria:

- The vehicle has been owned and used by the applicant for a continuous period of at least 12 months.
 - At the time the vehicle is imported, the applicant is:
 - An Australian Citizen or an Australian Permanent Resident.
 - A person who has applied to become an Australian Citizen or and Australian Permanent Resident.
 - The applicant is of an age that entitles him or her to hold a license or permit to drive a road vehicle of that type.
 - The applicant undertakes to comply with any requirements as to road safety that are imposed in respect of the vehicle by the Administrator of Vehicle Standards.
 - Have not imported a road vehicle owned by him or her within the year ending on the day on which the vehicle in respect of which the application is made is landed in Australia.
- All vehicles intended to be imported, including motor vehicles, motorcycles, caravans, trailers, etc. must have an individual „Vehicle Import Approval“ prior to their arrival in Australia.
 - An Import Approval must be obtained for a vehicle to gain clearance at its point of entry to Australia. Vehicles that arrive in Australia without an approval will have to be re-exported or destroyed and the importer may face heavy penalties and fines. Import approvals cannot be issued for vehicles that have been imported.
 - Do not ship your vehicle to Australia until such time as you are issued an Import Approval. If you do ship your vehicle before receiving your approval and your vehicle arrives before the application is processed, an approval cannot be issued.
 - To prevent the entry of diseases, noxious weeds and insect pests into Australia, Quarantine authorities inspect all vehicles on arrival and may require them to be properly cleaned. This is usually effected by steam cleaning. You should remove all soil and any other matter from your vehicle (including the underside) prior to exportation to Australia.

PETS

- Australia allows the importation of live pigeons from approved countries, and household pet birds from New Zealand. The importation of all other live birds into Australia is currently prohibited.
- Domestic dogs and cats can be imported from approved countries however these are subject, with the exception from New Zealand, to importation permits. They will also be subjected to a specified quarantine period upon arrival in Australia. Direct importation of domestic Dogs and Cats from some nominated countries is totally prohibited.

NOTE

- Customs regulations are subject to change at any time. The proceeding information is a brief summary of customs regulations applicable to household goods shipments to this destination and is being provided for general guidance to assist our Agents and Customers. Since such regulations are subject to change without notice, cannot be held liable for any costs, damage, delays, or other detrimental events resulting from non-compliance. Always double check with your local embassy or consulate.
- Contact Australian Customs or the consulate or embassy of the countries you're visiting before you travel, for more advice about importing or exporting illegal and restricted items.
